Welcome to the City of Falcon Heights!

Dear New Residents,

On behalf of all your Falcon Heights neighbors, we want to welcome you to your new home in our “Fair” city! You have chosen a truly unique place to live. It is located just ten minutes from the downtown districts of both St. Paul and Minneapolis. Falcon Heights has access to several parks, shopping malls, and numerous other attractions. We also boast several attractions within city boundaries including the Minnesota State Fair, the Gibbs Farm Museum, the University of Minnesota Institute of Agriculture and the University's Les Bolstad Golf Course are all located in Falcon Heights. Convenient public transportation is always available through the MCTO and the Roseville Area Circulator systems.

People are surprised to find so much available in a city of just 5,521 residents -- all the convenience of larger cities with a "small city" feel. As a small city, we rely heavily on the talents and energies of our residents of all ages to help maintain the quality of life we have come to enjoy. A wide range of community events are planned each year to bring people together to strengthen community bonds. Watch for notices of these events in the bi-annual City Newsletter website. Also, sign up for our city’s listserv link found on the city’s homepage, and Like or Follow us on Facebook or Twitter for the latest city news.

We look forward to getting to know you!

Sincerely,

Randy Gustafson
Mayor
History of Falcon Heights

The present City of Falcon Heights originally was contained within the boundaries of the old Rose Township, which also included the cities of Lauderdale and Roseville, as well as sections of St. Paul, Minneapolis and St. Anthony.

Settlement of the area began as early as 1843, six years before Minnesota became an official territory. Credit for the first settlement is generally granted to Stephen Desnoyer, who established his home on the banks of the Mississippi River near the present site of the Town and Country Golf Course. The family of Isaac Rose also settled in the area in 1843. Rose Township was named after Isaac Rose as a reward for his assistance in the federal land survey of 1850.

Soon to follow the Rose family in settlement was Heman Gibbs, who established his home on a land grant west of Cleveland Avenue, and north and south of Larpenteur. In his home, Gibbs established the first school in Rose Township. The school remained in service until 1959, one of the longest periods of use in the state’s history.

The original sod house built by Heman Gibbs is no longer standing, but the second house built for the family in 1854 still remains on the site. The Ramsey County Historical Society purchased the Gibbs’ farm in 1949, and operates it as a museum, while the homestead itself is listed on the National Register as a designated historical site.

In 1859, one year after Minnesota was granted Statehood, Rose Township organized a voting precinct, and with all 22 legal voters present, town officers were duly elected and taxes were levied for the coming year. Nearly half of the original Rose Township was absorbed by St. Paul in 1881. Of the remaining area, the first urban area to arise was Rosehill, now known as Lauderdale.

It was in the 1930’s, that the area known as Falcon Heights received its name. The secretary of Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Company (3M), John Cable, owned a larger parcel of land in the present City. Cable made plans to plat the area with his real estate agent, a gentleman named Faulkner, who named the development after himself. The Keller Corporations bought the land owned by Cable in 1936. They retained the name of the development, Falcon Heights, completed the platting, and constructed the first house in 1937.

In the early 1940’s, retail business construction began in the area, with development centering on the intersection of Snelling and Larpenteur and on Hamline between Hoyt and Iowa. At one time, a small airfield occupied one of the fields near Snelling and Larpenteur. The city park that now occupies the site is named after the airport, Curtiss Field.
With the incorporation of Roseville in 1948, and the continued development of the area, the residents were faced with a choice regarding the form of government they desired to serve their needs. On April 1, 1949, by a vote of 5 to 1, the citizens rejected petitioning either Roseville or St. Paul for annexation, and chose instead to establish their own independent village government.

The incorporation of the Village of Falcon Heights brought in all of the remaining unincorporated areas of Rose Township, including the State Fairgrounds, University of Minnesota Campus Golf Course, and Test Fields. These public lands comprise two-thirds of the total land area in our City.

In 1973, the State Legislature mandated a change in municipal government from Village to City. The following year the Village of Falcon Heights officially became the City of Falcon Heights. Some longtime residents still call it "The Village."

Residential development began in Falcon Heights in the 1920s, mostly southeast of the Snelling/Larpenteur crossroads and along the main roads north of Larpenteur. After World War II the fields northeast of Snelling/Larpenteur of Larpenteur were rapidly developed into a grassy suburb typical of the era.

The University of Minnesota, north of Hoyt Street and west of Cleveland Avenue created University Grove, one of the Twin Cities’ most unique neighborhoods. The homes, each individually designed and built, were intended to provide convenient, affordable housing for University faculty and staff.

Homebuilding spread west of Larpenteur in the 1960s and 1970s, filling up the remaining pockets of land not owned by the University of Minnesota. The newest developments - Maple Court, Questwood, and 1666 Coffman - follow the townhome or condominium model, reflecting the scarcity of land in the inner suburbs and the need to fit more households into less space and provide life-stage housing for retired residents.

In 2003, the 50-year-old shopping center at the southeast corner of Snelling and Larpenteur was razed, and a new mixed-use development took its place. Falcon Heights Town Square includes an apartment building for senior citizens, a multi-family apartment building with retail businesses on the ground floor, and a cluster of 14 townhomes, adding over 170 households to Falcon Heights' population.
Administration

The Administration Department is responsible for many City operations; include management of licenses, City Code and Ordinances, and finances.

City Council

The mayor and City Council are the elected policy makers for the City of Falcon Heights. The City Council meets the 2nd and 4th Wednesday of each month at 7:00 p.m. at City Hall, 2077 W. Larpenteur Avenue. Meetings are streamed live from CTV and televised on public access channel 15.

Council members and the mayor are elected to four year terms. City Council elections are held in odd numbered years. The next City Council Election is in 2021. Access the elections page here.

City Commissions

All City Commissions consist of volunteers who are appointed to their posts by the Mayor with the Council’s approval. Commission members may not serve more than two consecutive terms.

- The Planning Commission serves in an advisory capacity to the City Council. The Planning Commission makes recommendations to the Council concerning zoning issues and assures that proposed regulations and other land use issues are compatible with the City’s Comprehensive Plan.

- The Community Engagement Commission is charged with advising the Council on matters related to community needs and issues, crime and prevention, public awareness, community involvement, and human rights issues. The Commission also helps plan, facilitate community events such as Human Rights Day, and block parties.

- The Parks and Recreation Commission provides input on parks and trail maintenance and helps promote healthy activities and lifestyles for residents. It also develops plans for existing and expanding community recreation.

- The Environment Commission makes recommendations for current and future handling and recycling of solid waste materials in the City, developing environmentally friendly initiatives.

- Youth Commission is a place where youth plays a role in shaping Falcon Heights’ future and making the city a better place to live. Youth Commissioners will get the opportunity to enhance their civic leadership skills, serve as role models and represent their peers in school and neighborhood.

If you want to serve in one of the commissions, please contact City Hall 651-792-7600 or mail@falconheights.org for openings.

City Newsletter

A bi-annual publication that informs residents of Council action, ordinances, recreational opportunities, services, and items of interest. Contents of the Newsletter are provided by the Mayor, Council Members, and staff.

Public Works

The Public Works maintenance facility is located at 2077 W. Larpenteur Ave. (connected to City Hall). This facility handles the streets, sewer, utilities, and park divisions.

Street

Falcon Heights rights-of-way include most residential streets and all alleys. Snelling Avenue is Minnesota State Highway under the jurisdiction of the Minnesota Department of Transportation.

The following streets are under Ramsey County jurisdiction:

- Larpenteur Avenue
- Cleveland Avenue
- Fairview Avenue
- Hamline Avenue (north of Larpenteur)
- Fulham Avenue (north of Larpenteur)

Pot Holes

After harsh winter weather, our roads tend to develop the occasional pot hole. If you become aware of a pot hole please report it! If the pot hole you would like to report is on a Falcon Heights street, please contact City Hall, and the Public Works Department will be notified.

Street Lighting

- Xcel Energy maintains most of the city streetlights.
- To report an outage of a streetlight, call Xcel at 1-800-960-6235 or report online at http://www1.xcelenergy.com/ODL/OUTAGEREPORT/
- If you witness accidental damage to a streetlight, or see evidence of vandalism, call 911, 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, and they will send the appropriate aid.

Street Sweeping

Local streets and alleys are swept in the spring around mid-April and again in mid-November after most of the leaves have fallen.

Sealcoating

Streets are sealcoated about every four years to assure maintenance.

Seasonal Load Limits

Snow Removal and Enforcement

Winter in Minnesota involves snow, and sometimes lots of it. The City's snow removal period begins automatically when the City receives two inches of snow. A snow emergency is not called, as happens in other cities. The Public Works Department begins plowing city streets after two to four inches of snow has fallen and may go out multiple times during large snow events. For more information on streets, parking, and sidewalks during snow events, please visit the city website.

- A Falcon Heights snow removal period begins automatically whenever there is new snowfall of two inches or more, not when the snow stops falling.
- There will be no announcement on the radio or TV.
- St. Paul and Minneapolis snow emergencies do NOT apply to Falcon Heights.
- The snow removal period ends 72 hours after it has stopped snowing or when the streets have been plowed full-width.
- All parked vehicles must be removed from the street during a snow removal period. Vehicles left on the street during a snow emergency are considered a public nuisance and are subject to being ticketed and towed. Streets must be clear and open for emergency vehicle access.
- During large snow events, the Public Works Department will often plow multiple times during the event. If streets have been plowed once but an additional two inches of snow has fallen, cars must remain off the street.

If you have any questions about the snow removal period, please contact City Hall.

Sidewalks

Sidewalks must be cleared by the adjacent property owner(s). City Code states that sidewalks must be cleared of snow and ice within 24 hours after a storm has ended. Snow and ice that is not cleared could result in a nuisance violation and abatement by the city, billed to the adjacent property owner(s).

Alleys

Like sidewalks, alleys must be cleared by the adjacent property owner(s). In Falcon Heights, property owners usually get together as a block and hire a snow plowing service, pre-paid for the season. Divided among all owners, the cost is usually very reasonable.

New residents should talk to their neighbors or seek out their Neighborhood Liaison to find out the arrangements for their block. If you do not know who your Neighborhood Liaison is, call City Hall, 651-792-7600 during office hours.
Ramsey County Sheriff’s Office

The City of Falcon Heights contracts police services through the Public Safety Services Division of the Sheriff’s Office and can be contacted by 651.266.7300.

Falcon Heights Fire Department

Falcon Heights maintains a paid on call Volunteer Fire Department of about 20 persons. A Fire Chief and two Assistant Fire Chiefs are appointed by the Council to a three-year term of office. The department maintains three fire engines to meet the emergency needs of Falcon Heights and Lauderdale. All volunteer firefighters are equipped with a pager, which notifies them of a fire, or rescue call at any time.

Those interested in becoming a volunteer firefighter should contact the Fire Department at 651-792-7635 or go to www.falconheights.org for an application and more information.

A Fire Marshal is employed by the City part-time to perform such tasks as preventive and new construction inspections, and rental and business inspections.

Volunteer Opportunities

Falcon Heights relies on a paid-on-call, volunteer fire department. The work is very rewarding — you can see firsthand what you have accomplished, and people are very grateful for your service. Although the Falcon Heights Fire Department is not a full-time department, you will be trained as a professional, and you will work as a professional. Fires do not recognize the difference between fulltime and paid-per-call firefighters!

Remember, the Falcon Heights Fire Department also serves the City of Lauderdale. Residents of Lauderdale and people who work in Lauderdale are welcome to apply online!
Neighborhood Liaison

Falcon Heights Neighborhood Liaisons are citizen volunteers who help with everything from organizing block parties to preparing for emergencies. The Community Engagement Commission sponsors this community network.

Why do we have Neighborhood Liaisons?

We want to connect residents of Falcon Heights’ neighborhoods with each other with the city through the Community Engagement Commission (CEC). Liaisons do this by building relationships to more effectively cultivate a caring, supportive, and inclusive community.

What do Liaisons Do?

- Welcome new residents.
- Promote neighborhood gatherings, block parties, or other activities that work for your neighborhood.
- Be a connector and communicator between the neighborhood and City Council through the CEC.

Want to become more involved in your neighborhood? Sign up online, call city hall or in person.

The Neighborhood Liaisons Packet is available online and at City Hall.

City Events

The city hosts a variety of events each year and it is a great way to engage with the community.

Spring Together: To honor the spirit of sharing and community, the meal will be potluck and a great opportunity to meet many neighbors, while enjoying many flavors. Bring your favorite dish to share!

Ice Cream Social and Hot dog with a Deputy: Join your neighbors for an Ice Cream Social and “Hot Dog with a Deputy.” There will be games for all ages and live music in the park. Free hot dogs, chips, bottled water, and the Ramsey County Sheriff’s Department will provide frozen fun pops.

City Wide Garage Sale: Want to get rid of things around the house or looking to buy? Falcon Heights’ Garage Sale Day is held in September.

Sustainability Fair: This free event displayed sustainable practices going on in our community while educating others on how to bring sustainability home with them. The fair was geared up for all ages to engage community members to work together protecting our natural resources and environment for a more resilient future.

Falcon Heights Fire Department Open House: In recognition of National Fire Prevention Week, the Falcon Heights Fire Department host an open house in October. The Fire station open house will include games, live-fire kitchen safety demonstrations, and an automobile extrication demonstration.

Human Rights Day: It is celebrated annually across the world on 10 December every year. The Community Engagement Commission hosts the event each year with different themes.

Cultivating a Caring Community: In the spring of 2018, elected officials, staff, and community representatives from Falcon Heights connected with other communities who are working to promote inclusion throughout the city. These relationships helped facilitate the upcoming events!

Check our website for updated dates and times and new events!

State Fair

Parking

To reduce the Fair’s impact on your daily life, please keep in mind that the police enforce the following regulations in Falcon Heights:

The following are not permitted in residential areas at any time of the year:

- The parking of cars on lawns
- Advertising of parking spaces for sale
- Outdoor sales of merchandise, such as mini-donuts or sunglasses (Lemon stand is acceptable)

To report parking code violations, call the police via Ramsey County Dispatch, 651-767-0640, and they will contact the officers on duty.

STREET PARKING WILL BE RESTRICTED

Many streets will be posted “No Parking” on the water hydrant side during the Fair so that public safety vehicles have access through streets and to the hydrants.

Residents as well as fairgoers must abide by street parking restrictions.

Temporary parking permits and parking bags are not issued during the Fair except for very unusual and extenuating circumstances.
Some areas near apartment buildings and in a few cul-de-sacs will be posted “No Parking Except By Permit”. These permits will be issued only to persons living in apartment buildings with limited off-street parking. Permits will be issued through the individual apartment owner or manager.

Vendors

The City of Falcon Heights does not allow temporary business vendors within the city limit and right-away except for kids's lemonade stands. The City of St. Paul allows vendors within their city limits. In order to obtain the temporary license, please contact St. Paul.

St. Paul State Fair License Department
